...Begin Again...

I am in the Cocoon once Again.

Isolated,

left to myself to restore the pieces of the pain in my heart.

This time its different,

i am a woman,

ten years older,

i have endured by the strength of my God

and been given the tools of restoration.

I can sweep away the debris, the residue of pain and anguish.

i don't have to live their anymore.

i won't be broken.

The enemy will not succeed in discouraging me from this thing called

Destiny.

i am transformed.

And i will begin again.
