...Require More...

When will we begin to require more?

Require more of ourselves as humans, as thinkers, as spiritual beings.

When will we require more from ourselves?

Settling for what is presented to us, but not requiring more.

Not pushing to the limit.

What happened to ambition,
the hunger for a better and more positive life.

Not forgetting gratitude,
but listening to what your spirit is directing you to do.

Pushing forward,

Standing up

And Rising to the Occasion

Never settling for Mediocrity.
